

The Organizing Committee of the forthcoming 19th IHSS conference which will be held in Albena Resort, Varna Region, Bulgaria on 16-21 September takes the opportunity to invite you to participate in the event. Some of the best experts from all over the world will take part in it and they will share the latest developments in the field of humic substances.

We have also offered excellent working facilities, comfort hotel rooms and interesting social and tourist activities.

This event is a perfect chance for us to welcome you in Bulgaria and for you – to establish new professional contacts and to spend several unforgettable days at our beautiful seaside.

We are also excited to announce the IHSS conference website is now live!

You may visit www.ihss2018.org for information and updates .

The registration is already open and you may follow the link here and do the registration just in a few steps.
